Dassai 39 Junmai Daiginjo, Alc 16%

720ml bottle €72.50

If there ever were a role model for junmai daiginjo, this is it. Dassai "39" is a skillfully balanced sake that strikes a wonderful compromise between Dassai "23" and "45." It borrows some of the best qualities from each and combines them into a sake with a more subtle aroma, higher acidity, and a creamy texture. The juicy melon note provides the bouquet that fades into a crisp aftertaste.

Dassai 23 Junmai Daiginjo, Alc 16%

Dassai challenged themselves to brew the ultimate junmai daiginjo as their flagship product. The result? Dassai "23," a sake with Yamadanishiki rice polished down to 23%, which is a pretty high polish for a flagship product. Their hard work gives us a sake with an enticing aroma and a honey-esque sweetness that flows over the palate like a gentle waterfall. The aftertaste is clean, leaving you wishing for another sip.

Dassai 45 Nigori, Alc 16%

This is a nigori that reflects Dassai's ever-present elegance. Being a junmai daiginjo, this one is slightly less saturated with sake lees (the rice solids in the bottle) compared to other nigori. On the nose you'll find the faintest hint of muscat, but where this sake shines is its texture and flavor. Its light, fine grain texture accompanies bright and juicy balanced flavors, resulting in a slight sweetness.
